January What's Up 2022

Students in TaP1 class made individual puzzles all about themselves and what they loved about school and learning. We talked about how school can be like a puzzle, and every person's experience is unique within the framework of a class period, or a classroom setting, or content area because of many factors that are controlled and uncontrolled. Students took apart their own puzzle and made it again. Students pieced together puzzles from their elbow buddies. They learned about each other in a low risk and creative way, and the conversations were spontaneous and fruitful.
