

Snowcrest's Whats's Up November 2021

Snowcrest enjoyed a virtual Veteran's Day assembly. Students were asked to fill out a questionnaire and submit a picture of relatives or acquaintances they knew who served our country. It was amazing! The choir, band, and orchestra performed patriotic numbers.

The staff at Snowcrest Junior High enjoyed their traditional Pie Day to celebrate our gratitude for the many blessings we have. The showed off their culinary skills by making pizza pies, chicken pot pie, pear pie, pumpkin pie, key lime pie, and apple pie, just to name a few. We had a delicious feast.

Ms. Hunter's Foods class enjoyed a delicious Thanksgiving Dinner prepared by themselves. "Each kitchen group was in charge of a different Thanksgiving food and then we all ate the food together. I even contributed by smoking the turkey on my Traeger smoker. The students had a great time! A few of them even got to make pie for the first time, and try asparagus and brussels sprouts. They even liked it!" Ms. Hunter

Student's enjoyed Dance, Dance Revolution during lunch on Halloween!

Weber High's German department served root beer floats and played German music during our lunches celebrating Oktoberfest

Students in TaP class read "Flowers for Algernon" as part of the Special Populations Strand of the course. To connect better to the story, they made their own Rorschach prints, learned about the test's history, and talked about test reliability and the nature of testing. Students also worked mazes for another connection point and considered the stress of testing regardless of the aims or stakes.

Family, students, and friends enjoyed Snowcrest's Fall Concert presented by our band, choir, and orchestra.

Walker Lopshire won Reserve Champion at the Dixie Six High School Rodeo Trap Shooting contest in Hurricane Utah.

The Martian Chronicles - Students created Nostalgia poems to go along with The Martian Chronicles. Ray Bradbury is known for having written his first stories on brown grocery sacks because the family didn't have much money, so the students used brown butcher paper for their poems. Also, we have a quilt theme emerging from our work this year, so the poems are stitched together with a community feeling and hometown flair. The pocket door is decorated by students to show each chapter in the novel. It's become a great reference point that we use often in class to remember what happened where in the book. And students come in during Advisory to add panels. It's been a low-stakes way to talk about the book and collaborate.
